GREAT MINDS DRINK ALIKE.

At the turn of the millennium, Oklahoma had just three wineries to speak of. Today, guests can enjoy vineyard tours, tastings, harvests, grape-stomping and more at more than 40 wineries across the state. Bring your friends and raise a glass to music, dancing, food and winemaking with winery-hosted events throughout the year – or book an event of your own.

OKLAHOMA GROWN

Chambourcin is the most popular grape grown in Oklahoma for winemaking. Known for their versatility, these grapes are often used to produce a wide range of wine styles, including dry, semi-dry, and sweet red wines. Chambourcin wines typically exhibit bold flavors of cherry, plum, and blackberry, with a hint of spice and a smooth, velvety texture. Their deep color and balanced acidity make them ideal candidates for varietal bottlings or blending with other grape types. In Oklahoma's favorable climate, characterized by hot summers and moderate winters, Chambourcin thrives in well-drained soils, receiving abundant sunshine throughout the growing season.
